2021 started with a frigid spring saw temperatures in a bone-dry March and a very wet April hit freezing at times, however, most vineyards were lucky enough to escape any major frost damage, and neither disease or rot took hold.

June and July saw temperatures ascend but they then quickly fell in August, which also saw the return of rain. September was cooler than usual and mostly dry which kept both disease pressure low, however, the cool temperatures meant grapes were slow to ripen. The slow progress to phenolic ripeness helped concentrated the juices within the fruit while retaining crucial acidity.

This muscat has a beautiful balance between the fruit characters and crisp acidity. It has notes of ripe apple, mandarin, acacia, with a touch of honey. This wine has a delicate light body that makes it super easy drinking especially in hot summer days.
